

Rise of Eden

Improve the land of Eden as you expand outward. Work together using everyone's improvements, but only one guild will win in the end.

To get maximum points for yourself, you must boost your opponents scores.

Resource production by one player has the potential to help all players.

All created buildings benefit every player.

- Everything placed on the board can help and be used by other players.
- "Mana wells" can be used to generate either mana or resources.
- Resources can become exhausted depending on player actions.
- Little downtime between turns.
- Mana is used for resource generation or player actions.
- Key decisions improve one aspect of your gameplay but may hinder another.
